

The interface features a central table titled "Offline" with five columns: Name, Score, Date, and Location. The first row is highlighted in yellow and shows "1", "You", "21230", "2025", and "Home". The subsequent rows list "Newton", "Austen", "Dickens", "Orwell", and "Locke" with their respective scores and dates, all located in "England". To the left of the table, a box displays the "Score 21230". To the right, there are two large, light-gray triangular buttons pointing up and down. At the bottom center is a "NEXT" button with a yellow arrow pointing right. The background includes a stylized landscape with a castle on the left and a tree on the right. A red button with a white icon is in the top right corner, and a green button with a white icon is in the bottom left corner.
